The morning is finally here, this is the day I've been waiting for. My first reaction, look outside and check the weather, but I was scared I would open the curtain only to see rain or snow or maybe even a mushroom cloud, you never know. Well I finally got up the guts to open them and I was disappointed with what I saw, snow!!! It just cant be! Well I finally got over that and we made plans to leave later on, as soon as it cleared up. Thank God it did!

WE're on our way, and the hour ride seems like 5 minuts. We arrived in New Brunswick and were faced with the problem of finding Tom's house. It was esier than we thout, I mean how many people in N.B. have 12 ft. high ramps in their backyard? The first thing we saw was the top of the ramp sticking up over top of the houses, need- less to say I was in the backyard even before the van was parked. This is where I experienced my second disappointment of the day, wet fiberglass, and urathane wheels just don't get along very well.

I then went inside to find a houseful of eager skaters with all of their pads on. We all then went back outside to dry off the ramp as best as we could. It still had some wet spots on it when we started skating which of course some much needed sleep.

I awoke the next morning to the sound of the ramp being skated and decided it was time to get my pads on and join them. The skating got

A HOT WEEKEND, IN A COLD MONTH

BY RICK CHARNOSKI

accounted for some severe unexpected beefs.

When it got dark we all piled in some cars and hit the local mall for pizza and painted-curb sessions. That lasted for a couple hrs. then we all went back to Tom's house for hours of looking at millions of pictures, courtesy of Mr. Groholski. Then came the highlight of the night, movies from California, everyone was totally stoked off of that. Well it began to get late and we all got hotter as the day went on, and a lot more skaters started showing from Pa, N.J, Md, NY, and Va. Then came the video crew, the stereo, Next thing you know it was high noon and the contest was under way.

STEVE HERRING, FACE HIGH

Everyone took 4 runs and where judged over all. The major threats where; Jim Murphy, Dan Brown, and Jeff Jones. Jim had every move under the sun, including B-side boneless', fully contorted laybacks, chest-high indy airs, and he even threw in a Les' channel air ( w/out a channel.) Dan was doing Miller flips, bomb drops off the extension, and stalling inverts for 5 seconds. Jeff was sporting his new trick, the finger flip-layback and the most killer F-side ollies I ever saw.

Two other notables that didn't compete were Steve Herring and Tom Groholski. Tom just simply left peoples jaws hit the ground, I won't even begin to list all of the moves he was doing. He shreds, lets just leave it at that. Of course Steve Herring also blew minds with some of the highest airs of the day. He also had the most aggressive style of anyone.

JEFF JONES "FINGER FLIP"

Well the contest was over and it was time for the highest air, this event was sick! Some guys would launch so high that you'd just stand there waiting for them to re-enter. Each time a skater would drop in he'd push it higher and higher until he couldn't push it anymore. After this event was over we all retired to Tom's living room to watch the contest on video. When that was over we watched the Circle Jerks gig 15 minuts after it happened.

Well thanks alot to the entire Groholski family for putting up with us for the whole weekend, and also thanks to the Philly crew for the cool video, your all too cool!

TOONER REVIEW

D.Y.S.-Dept. of Youth Services

D.Y.S. has an L.P. called, Brotherhood. They're from Boston. Their L.P. has very fast strumming in guitars and equally fast vocals, if not faster. Some of the fastest songs are, Insurance Risk, Brotherhood, and Fashion, but basically, the whole album rips! The worst song on the album is Escape, but you get to like it after a while. D.Y.S. shreds live, they played in H-burn Pa. If you get to see them, do it! They're also cool dudes, cuz they sold me their L.P. for only $3.00. Oh, by the way, they're a strait edge but buy the L.P. anyway.

Social Distortion

Social Distortions' new album, "Mommy's Little Monster" is a real disappointment. I bought the album thinking of the real hot songs they put on compilations, like, 1945 and Mass Hysteria. The songs remind me of some kind of big TIME rock and roll band or something, (8 minute long songs, long guitar solos, etc...) The only good thing about this album is the lyrics. If you're into fast paced hardcore to skate to, stay clear of this album, don't waste your money

29th STREET

IN THE TOWN OF OCEAN CITY, MARYLAND THERE ARE MANY UNDERGROUND SKATE SPOTS. I WOULD JUST LIKE TO MENTION ONE OF THEM. AT 29th STREET. THERE LIES A TOTALLY FUNCTIONAL FIBERGLASS HALFPIPE. IT IS 4ft. HIGH, 8ft. WIDE AND 8ft. FLAT BOTTOM. THIS OF COURSE INCLUDES TWO WIDE DECKS. THE RAMPS ARE A FORMER PART OF A CLOSED CITY OWNED PARK. A FEW LOCALS GOT A TRUCK AND PICKED UP WHAT THEY WANTED AT A VACANT LOT. IT IS NOW SET UP AT ITS PRESENT LOCATION. THE RAMP HAS ONLY BEEN THERE FOR ABOUT SIX MONTHS BUT EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT IT AND SESSIONS IT HEAVILY EVERY DAY. THE LOCATION IS REALLY COOL BECAUSE 7-II IS ONE BLOCK AWAY AND THE STREETS WERE RECENTLY PAVED. THE RAMP IS EVEN EQUIPPED WITH A CLASSICAL SOFA AND CUSHIONS ON THE SIDE. A SPECIAL THANKS TO ALL THE LOCAL SKATERS WHO HELPED BUILD IT AND ARE COOL ENOUGH TO LET EVERYONE SESSION IT.

ALL KINDS OF GARBAGE

KUCE-TORU

How's it going boys and girls? Did you all get stoked off of the first issue? That's good cuz' your stuck with reading another one!

Well, he did it again. Glen Charnoski has had a long histoy of skate oriented injuries, (too many to recall)but this time he realy did it. The first day he got bean plants wired, he ate it and ripped all kinds of things, (i.e.- tendons, ligaments, and muscles) in his ankle. But did that stop him??Of course not, he's now doing grinders, sweepers and more in a cast up to his knee! Could this be an example of dedication?

Tom Groholski is on his way to california and he left his ramp behind. Fortunately you're allowed to ride it on saturdays, from 10-5. Details next issue.

The Suburban Youth ramp still isn't finished due to too many reasons to start mentioning. When it is finaly, completely done, we will celebrate by holding a massive contest. Stay tuned.

There is a new underground rag being put out in the area. It's called what else but, 'SKATE'. It's realy pretty cool, so send stamps to:

Bail of the month; While on his way to the Circle Jerks gig, a former skate-type from Naz., Pa. got into an accident with a cab, but as if that wasn't enough, his wheel fell off his car on the way home! Talk about grinds w/out copers.

My apologies go to Robbie Mertz, whose name I spelled wrong last issue. (I hope it's not wrong again.)

A reliable source says that Neil Blender won the St. Pete Christmas/New Year Jam. If he did, you heard it here first.

We are holding a contest. That's right, a 'skate tough or... contest. Entries will be judged on originality and coolness. The prize will be the honor of having your name printed in this mag! What more could you ask for?

The Kick-Turn staff is also trying to hold a dith contest this coming spring. It would be held at none other than the Bethlehem dith. If it is pulled off, there will be a good supply of Y.M. t-shirts, stickers, mags and a lot more goodies.

Chuck Treece's band, McRad, has got a debut E.P. out on Red Records. For details, contact Chuck at;

Keep the letters, stories, stamps, and pics flowing this way. We where suprised and realy appreciate all of the feedback we've been getting already. Look for it next issue.

Until then, SKATE TOUGH OR...

RIPSTIK

Dear Diary,

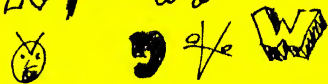

I finally got my new
"Ripstik" from Atlantic Skates.
I can't wait until it stops
raining so I can go out and ride it. It's a perfect size and it's got a great Concave. Atlantic has really come through this time. Well, what the hell, I'm gonna go ride it in the rain. Later!
